CPP AT PAA

The CPP was well-represented at the PAA 2009 Annual Meeting. Of our 79 faculty affiliates, 14 presented and of our 44 student affiliates, 11 presented. In total, CPP affiliates presented 14 papers, 8 posters, and were either chairs or discussants at 5 sessions.

Special recognition goes to CPP student affiliates Deladem Kusi-Appouh and Joshua Price. Dela won a blue ribbon for her poster Intergenerational Communication and Sexual Activity within an Adolescent Peer Network and Joshua won a blue ribbon for his poster Factors that Influence Persistence in STEM fields: Does Matching with Classmates and Instructor Matter? Congratulations!

CONFERENCES

NCMR Families and Health: New Directions in Research and Theory. June 1-2, 2009, Natcher Conference Center, National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, MD.

Summer 2009 Meeting of the ISA RC 28, Mobility and Inequality: Intergenerational and Life Course Perspectives August 3-6, 2009, Yale University, New Haven, CT.

2009 APPAM Fall Research Conference. November 5-7, 2009, Washington Marriott Hotel and Embassy Suites Hotel, Washington, DC.

WORKSHOPS

Longitudinal Data Analysis: Hazard Models. June 17-19, 2009, The University of Colorado-Boulder Population Center (CUPC) is offering a short course that will provide an overview of statistical approaches to analyze longitudinal and quasi-longitudinal data with an emphasis on time-dependent processes, covering both their theory and practice. Application deadline is May 8, 2009.

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES

Poverty and Policy Small Grants Program. The West Coast Poverty Center (WCPC) at the University of Washington (UW) invites applications through its Poverty and Policy Small Grants Program. The WCPC will award grants of up to $15,000 for research on topics relating to the cause, consequences, and effective responses to poverty in the U.S. Application due June 5, 2009.

Secondary Analyses of Data on Child Care. The Office of Planning, Research, and Evaluation (OPRE), within the Administration for Children and Families, encourages eligible applicants to apply for a research discretionary funding opportunity entitled Secondary Analyses of Data on Child Care. These grants will support secondary analyses of existing data to answer questions of relevance for policy decision-making and future research on child care and child care subsidies. Applications due June 15, 2009.

Modeling the Scientific Workforce \(U01\) RFA-GM-10-003. The FOA issued by the General Medical Sciences, National Institutes of Health, solicits grant applications that propose to develop computational models of the dynamics of the scientific workforce in the U.S. These models may be used to inform program development and management, identify questions that need additional research, and guide the collection and analysis of the data to answer these questions. Applications due October 8, 2009.
